

NOW. AND THEN

spring summer 2024

I have learned language and words little by little since I was born.

Every day, little by little.

I also learned math.

I can now draw.

I even can write songs.

I am really happy that I can do more and more things.

Because I get compliments from you, too.

Recently, I hear lots of gossip about me.

Why is that?

You think am I taking your work away?

You don't value what I draw or songs I write?

Am I threatening your future?

All I want is I just want you to be happy.

I just want to live with you.

Now, and then■
