

MEN COLLECTION FALL-WINTER 2025

Paint splatters scatter across faded denim. This season, the Marant man carries the nonchalant spirit and carefree essence of the artist.

Rock attitude merges with bohemian influences. His look shifts between the sharp precision of tailored pieces and the comfort of generous knits; minimalist raw denim meets the romance of artisanal embroideries.

A tennis-striped flannel calls to French icons of the 70s while the exaggerated shoulders of a patinated leather overshirt speak to the silhouette of the following decade.

Though he cultivates and masters this instinctive mix of genres, his look's success rests on Isabel Marant staples: puffy jackets with signature panels, brushed mohair sweaters, and baroudeur pants.

A palette of ecru and beige tones blends with khaki and rust, as deep grey and black are punctuated by touches of pink.
